Purpose of Training Series

The Title IX rule effective August 14, 2020, creates a new and specific process by which postsecondary institutions must manage complaints of covered sexual harassment on campus.

The TC Title IX Training Series is designed to provide foundational training to those individuals who will help to administer this required process, including Title IX coordinators, investigators, adjudicators, advisors, appeal officers, and individuals responsible for managing informal resolutions.

Use of Training Series

Institutions of higher education are welcome to use this foundational training series at their discretion, and to post the series to their websites as part of their Title IX training materials (a requirement under the new rule).

TC also is available to prepare custom Title IX training sessions, hearing simulations, and other assistance with Title IX matters (contact Aaron Lacey or Scott Goldschmidt).

Curriculum for Training Series

The foundational training series includes the following six sessions:

Title IX Fundamentals

The Title IX Statute

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex in education programs and activities and employment.

- Covers not only equity in athletic programming, but all forms of discrimination based on sex.
- Protects students and employees.
- Applies to all institutions that receive federal financial assistance, either directly or indirectly.
- Enforced by the Office of Civil Rights.

Sex-Based Discrimination

What is sex-based discrimination?

- The term is not defined in Title IX.
- “The Department follows the Supreme Court’s approach in interpreting conduct “on the basis of sex” to include conduct of a sexual nature or conduct referencing or aimed at a particular sex.”
- Includes sexual harassment (e.g., unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors), and sexual violence, which is a subset of sexual harassment (e.g., dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking)

The Title IX Regulations

Amplify the statute considerably, requiring institutions to:

- Disseminate a policy which includes a non-discrimination statement.
- Designate a Title IX Coordinator.
- Adopt and publish grievance procedures that are prompt and equitable and allow for adequate, reliable, and impartial investigation of complaints.
- Take action to address and prevent sex-based discrimination.

The Big Picture

Discrimination Based on Sex: Institutions are obligated to adopt and publish grievance procedures that provide for the prompt and equitable resolution of student and employee complaints alleging any form of prohibited sex discrimination occurring against a person in the United States. 34 CFR 106.8(c)-(d).

Title IX Sexual Harassment: With or without a formal complaint, institutions with actual knowledge of Title IX sexual harassment occurring in an education program or activity of the school against a person in the United States must respond promptly in a manner that is not deliberately indifferent and complies with 34 CFR 106.44(a).

Formal Complaint of Title IX Sexual Harassment: In response to a formal complaint of sexual harassment, institutions must follow a Title IX formal complaint process that complies with the new standards set forth in 34 CFR 106.45.

Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment means conduct on the basis of sex that satisfies one or more of the following:

- unwelcome conduct determined by a reasonable person to be so severe, pervasive, and objectively offensive that it effectively denies a person equal access to the school's education program or activity;
- an employee of the school conditioning the provision of an aid, benefit, or service of the school on an individual's participation in unwelcome sexual conduct; or
- sexual assault, as defined in the Clery Act, or dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking as defined in VAWA.

Additional Considerations

Sexual Harassment

What is the basis for the new definition of sexual harassment?

- From one administration to the next, the Department has consistently maintained that the standards the agency uses to determine Title IX compliance do not need to align with those established by the Supreme Court in Gebser and Davis.
- Without surrendering this discretion, this Department has chosen “to build these final regulations upon the foundation established by the Supreme Court...”
- This Department “believes it would be beneficial for recipients and students alike if the administrative standards governing recipients’ responses to sexual harassment were aligned with the standards developed by the Supreme Court in private actions...”

Additional Considerations

Sexual Harassment

Does this definition prohibit all harassing or offensive remarks?

- No. Unwelcome conduct must be severe, pervasive, and objectively offensive. But schools can still address such remarks in a variety of ways.

Does quid pro quo harassment need to be severe, pervasive, and objectively offensive? How about Clery/VAWA offenses?

- No. Only the “unwelcome conduct” prong of the sexual harassment definition must be severe, pervasive, and objectively offensive. A victim of quid pro quo sexual harassment or Clery/VAWA sex offenses, has been effectively denied equal access to education.

Complainant, Respondent, Consent

Complainant. An individual who is alleged to be the victim of conduct that could constitute sexual harassment.

Respondent. An individual who has been reported to be the perpetrator of conduct that could constitute sexual harassment.

Consent. The Assistant Secretary will not require schools to adopt a particular definition of consent with respect to sexual assault.

- Some schools are under state law requirements to apply a particular definition of consent for purposes of campus sexual misconduct policies.

Responding to Title IX Sexual Harassment

An institution must respond to sexual harassment, with or without a formal complaint, when:

- the school has actual knowledge of the alleged sexual harassment;
- the alleged sexual harassment occurred in an education program or activity of the school; and
- the alleged sexual harassment was against a person physically located in the United States.

Actual Knowledge

Actual knowledge means notice of sexual harassment or allegations of sexual harassment to a school's Title IX Coordinator or any official of the school who has authority to institute corrective measures on behalf of the institution.

- The mere ability or obligation to report sexual harassment or to inform a student about how to report sexual harassment, or having been trained to do so, does not qualify an individual as one who has authority to institute corrective measures on behalf of the institution.

Actual Knowledge

Who can make a report?

- Any person (including bystanders or anonymous reports).

Who is an official with authority to institute corrective measures on behalf of the institution?

- This is a fact-specific determination. Per the Preamble, possibly supervisors and deans. Schools can identify such individuals in a list.

Which employees must report sexual harassment to the Title IX Coordinator?

- As to employees who are not the Title IX Coordinator or Officials with Authority, schools have wide discretion to craft and implement their own employee reporting policy.

An education program or activity of the school includes “locations, events, or circumstances over which the school exercised substantial control over both the respondent and the context in which the sexual harassment occurs, and also includes any building owned or controlled by a student organization that is officially recognized by a postsecondary institution.”

Program or Activity

How does an institution determine what constitutes a program or activity?

- “It’s a fact specific inquiry. The key questions are whether the recipient exercised substantial control over the respondent and the context in which the incident occurred.”

What if a student is sexually assaulted outside of an education program or activity but later suffers Title IX sexual harassment in an education program or activity?

- Title IX would only cover the act of sexual harassment in an institution’s education program or activity, but the institution may still choose address the prior assault through its own process or code of conduct.

Physical Location

The complainant must be a person physically located in the United States.

- The Department acknowledges that individuals experiencing sexual harassment while outside of the country (i.e., studying abroad) would not be covered.
- However, it would appear that sexual harassment perpetrated online against an individual physically located in the United States could be covered, even if the perpetrator were located outside of the country.

Elements of a Sufficient Response

Institutions must respond “promptly” and “in a manner that is not deliberately indifferent.”

A school is deliberately indifferent “only if its response to sexual harassment is clearly unreasonable in light of the known circumstances.”

In the proposed rule, the Department offered additional detail regarding conduct that would, or would not, constitute deliberate indifference. The final rule does not include this language.

However, the final rule does specify that a Title IX Coordinator must promptly contact the complainant to:

- discuss the availability of supportive measures;
- consider the complainant's wishes with respect to supportive measures;
- inform the complainant of the availability of supportive measures with or without the filing of a formal complaint; and
- explain to the complainant the process for filing a formal complaint.

A failure to satisfy these specific requirements could be characterized as deliberate indifference.

Further, the final rule specifies that a school's response must treat complainants and respondents equitably by offering supportive measures to a complainant, and by following a compliant grievance process before the imposition of any disciplinary sanctions against a respondent.

Once again, a failure to satisfy these requirements could be deemed deliberate indifference.

Does the deliberate indifference standard relieve recipients of their obligation to respond to every known allegation of sexual harassment?

- No.

In the absence of a formal complaint, are there circumstances where an institution would initiate a grievance process against the respondent to avoid being deliberately indifferent?

- Yes. The Title IX Coordinator may sign a formal complaint to initiate a grievance process. Examples noted in the Preamble are threat, serial predation, violence, or weapons.

Interim Measures: Removal / Leave

An institution would be permitted to remove a respondent from campus on an emergency basis, provided:

- that the school undertakes an individualized safety and risk analysis;
- determines that an immediate threat to the physical health or safety of any student or other individual arising from the allegations of sexual harassment justifies removal; and
- provides the respondent with notice and an opportunity to challenge the decision immediately following the removal.

An institution also would be permitted to place a “non-student employee respondent” on administrative leave during the “pendency of [its] grievance process.”

Interim Measures: Removal / Leave

What does the “individualized safety or risk analysis” require?

- “...more than a generalized, hypothetical, or speculative belief that the respondent may pose a risk to someone’s physical health or safety.”

What does it mean that an individual can challenge their removal “immediately” after removal?

- This is fact-specific, but is generally understood as occurring without delay, as soon as possible, given the circumstances.

Is self-harm grounds for emergency removal?

- Yes, when the threat arises from allegations of sexual harassment. But it is important for institution's to consider and comply with the ADA.

Do respondents who are employees receive the same due process protections with respect to emergency removals (i.e., post-removal notice and opportunity to challenge the removal)?

- Yes.

Supportive measures means non-disciplinary, non-punitive individualized services offered as appropriate, as reasonably available, and without fee or charge to the complainant or the respondent before or after the filing of a formal complaint or where no formal complaint has been filed.

Such measures are designed to restore or preserve equal access to the school's education program or activity without unreasonably burdening the other party, including measures designed to protect the safety of all parties or the school's educational environment, or deter sexual harassment.

Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 generally prohibits discrimination in the workplace, and has been interpreted by the Supreme Court to prohibit sexual harassment.

In the Preamble to the new rule, the Department observes that it “is aware that Title VII imposes different obligations with respect to sexual harassment, including a different definition, and recipients that are subject to both Title VII and Title IX will need to comply with both sets of obligations.”

On May 19, 2020, the U.S. Department of Education published the official version of its new Title IX regulation in the Federal Register. This new rule constitutes the first significant revision of the Department's Title IX regulations concerning sexual harassment in over 40 years. Among other things, the new rule revises the scope of a school's responsibility for managing incidents of sex discrimination, codifies procedural requirements for the resolution of Title IX complaints, and defines key concepts in the law. The effective date of the new rule is August 14, 2020. Below, we provide a comparison that shows the changes the new rule will make to 34 C.F.R. Part 106 as of August 14, 2020. We have created this document by comparing the existing rule to the changes set forth in the Federal Register, noted above.

Subpart A—Introduction

§106.1 Purpose and effective date.

The purpose of this part is to effectuate title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, as amended by Pub. L. 93-568, 88 Stat. 1855 (except sections 904 and 906 of those Amendments) which is designed to eliminate (with certain exceptions) discrimination on the basis of sex in any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance, whether or not such program or activity is offered or sponsored by an educational institution as defined in this part. This part is also intended to effectuate section 844 of the Education Amendments of 1974, Pub. L. 93-380, 88 Stat. 484. The effective date of this part shall be July 21, 1975.

§106.2 Definitions.

As used in this part, the term:

(a) Title IX means title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Pub. L. 92-318, as amended by section 3 of Pub. L. 93-568, 88 Stat. 1855, except sections 904 and 906 thereof; 20 U.S.C. 1681, 1682, 1683, 1685, 1686.

(b) Department means the Department of Education.

The CARES Act: More options for higher education

▲ Aaron Lacey ▲ Christopher Murray ▲ Scott Goldschmidt April 3, 2020

This is a brief overview of provisions of the CARES Act that, while not designed specifically for higher education, are nonetheless relevant to institutions in their roles as businesses and employers, and which may provide opportunities for economic relief. READ MORE

The CARES Act: Summary of provisions impacting higher education institutions and borrowers

▲ Scott Goldschmidt ▲ Aaron Lacey ▲ Christopher Murray March 27, 2020

In this article, we provide a brief overview of the provisions of the CARES Act that most directly concern institutions of higher education and their borrowers. In some cases, the statutory language contemplates extraordinary waivers, assistance, and accommodations, with very little detail regarding when and how such relief will become

ED issues instructions to Higher Ed to obtain CARES Act funds

Earlier this afternoon, the U.S. Department of Education sent a letter to institutional leaders detailing the process for securing the first round of relief funds under the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security ("CARES") Act. The Department has included a breakdown of the funds each institution will receive under the Higher Education Emergency Relief Fund, as well as a Certificate of Agreement that must be completed.
